

FENS community support for Ukraine

Communication Toolkit

FENS stands in solidarity with the scientific community and all those who are suffering directly or indirectly from the attack on Ukraine. Our membership aims to empower scientists and advance brain research and education across Europe and beyond under the safest and most supportive conditions. Current hostilities are threatening this mission, the welfare of our members and the broader global society. As the voice of European neuroscience, FENS firmly opposes the invasion of Ukraine and expresses its support to our Ukrainian family, friends, neighbours and colleagues, as well as to the scientists and citizens in Russia who courageously oppose this war. We hope that a peaceful resolution can be achieved as rapidly as possible.

In an effort to help affected scientists and students, FENS has reached out to the neuroscience community to share resources and opportunities which are included in the initiatives below. New resources will be added as they become available.

1. FENS Job Market support: Positions for Ukrainian scientists and students can be posted with a special status on the FENS Job Market. There is no charge for non-members to post for this purpose.
2. FENS community resource list: FENS community members can contribute to a resource list for Ukrainian scientists and students on the FENS website by sending suggestions to office[at]fens[dot]org.

Social Media Handles & Links

Twitter: FENSorg

Facebook: FENSorg

Instagram: fens_org

LinkedIn: Federation of European Neuroscience Societies - FENS

Logo

Social Media Posts

- #FENS is developing initiatives to help coordinate community efforts to help researchers affected by the war in #Ukraine: Positions for Ukrainians posted with a special status on the FENS Job Market and a FENS community resource list. Find out how you can help. #ScienceForUkraine → <https://bit.ly/3N1A9Ez>
- If your university, research group, lab or company would like to help scholars and students from #Ukraine, you can submit your available positions for free at the FENS Job Market. Find out how to help your peers.
#ScienceForUkraine → <https://bit.ly/3N1A9Ez>

Email

I stand in solidarity with the scientific community and all those who are suffering directly or indirectly from the attack on Ukraine. In an effort to help affected scientists and students, FENS is developing initiatives to help coordinate community efforts. The current ones are listed below:

1. FENS Job Market support: Positions for Ukrainian scientists and students can be posted with a special status on the FENS Job Market. There is no charge for non-members to post for this purpose.
2. FENS community resource list: FENS community members can contribute to a resource list for Ukrainian scientists and students on the FENS website by sending suggestions to office[at]fens[dot]org.

Find out more here.

Graphics

Download the graphic here.